

Quality, Integrity, Affordability

Blantone Music's Green-House Studio offers turn-key production services wherein projects can be taken from their very infancy to shrink-wrapped final product, ready for distribution to the wider world.

Let Steve Blanton's decades of experience as a performing musician, audio engineer, producer, and as a radio host inform your next project.

Live tracking, up to 24 channels at a time, is possible here with ample isolation; always using the very best mics and pre-amps, compressors, EQ's, and digital conversion available. Please visit the website for an up-to-date listing of the fine equipment available for use on your project. The rooms here are tuned and acoustically sound...a real treat. Contact Steve Blanton at the Green-House before you begin any studio/recording project!

By a musician for musicians: the GREEN-HOUSE

While it is true that no one goes out of a studio humming equipment, having an engineer that knows his stuff and is able to apply that in a properly equipped and maintained facility can go a long way to helping an artist realize his/her vision. If you'd like to bring your project to fruition (and without breaking the bank) in a facility owned and operated by an engineer that is also a musician, and who has created a comfortable and creative place for musicians... you've indeed come to the right place. Expert tracking, mixing, and mastering can be arranged quickly and easily...in the studio or online.

The Green-House is a fully-equipped, full service studio.

Projects can begin quickly with minimal hassle via the variety of quality instruments on hand, including: a 1955 Hammond B3 and two-speed 22H Leslie; a fabulous set of custom-made Palmetto drums; an Ampeg Portaflex bass amp; and a wide selection of vintage guitar amps from Fender and Gibson.

Proudly using:

FOCAL, Lynx, AMEK, Telefunken, Manley, API, Neumann, Royer, AKG, Avalon, Great River, Crane Song, Universal Audio, Drawmer, Electrodyne, B.L.U.E., Sennheiser, Soundelux, dbx, Earthworks, T.C., Shure, AEA, HHB, True Systems, Apogee...and much more!
